

Arguably, both beauticians & doctors jobs will under threat, as there will be less demand in employing beauticians if they cannot conduct as high risk treatments. Doctors' demands will be increased but there is only certain amount of doctors available since they are highly skilled professionals. Supply and demand of skills will become imbalanced.

Thanks!